

Mission

The mission of the Riverside County Family Justice Centers is to provide victims of domestic violence with centralized access to public and private resources in a safe, secure, and private environment.

History

The Riverside County Family Justice Centers are a community collaboration led by the District Attorney's office. Riverside County opened the first Family Justice Center in downtown Riverside on March 23, 2005. The Southwest Family Justice Center opened in Murrieta on November 14, 2006.

With regionalized facilities, Riverside County was the first to open multiple centers in order to address the geographical barrier to services. While both centers operate under the same structure and leadership, each center is somewhat unique to the region, reflecting differences in the courts, local law enforcement agencies and location of partner agencies.
