What to expect when you visit us

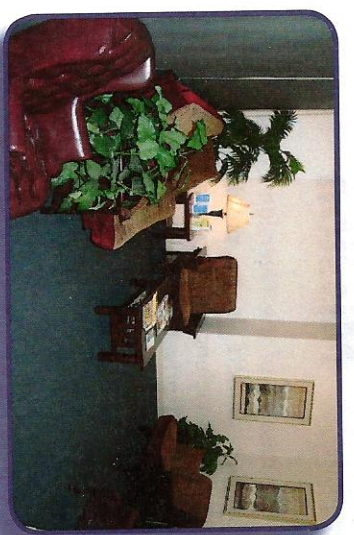

Everyone who visits a center can expect a one-on-one private consultation with an experienced advocate. The advocate will serve as your guide to obtaining the help you and your children need. You will find many services available to you all in one convenient location.

Whether you visit our Riverside Family Justice Center or our Southwest Family Justice Center, you can expect a very warm and comfortable place, where safety is top priority.

We know that often times your children have heard more than you want them to. Each FJC location has a fun playroom full of toys for your children to enjoy during your visit.

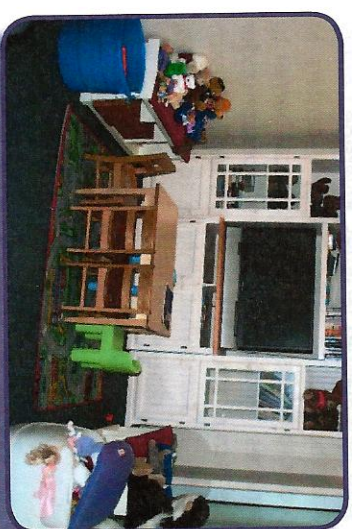

"It's comfortable. It made me feel at ease to finally get this started."
